

CME INFORMATION
NEW YORK TRANSCATHETER VALVES SYMPOSIUM
DECEMBER 9, 2021

Target Audience

The New York Valves Symposium has been designed to meet the educational needs of interventional cardiologists, invasive cardiologists, cardiothoracic surgeons, interventional radiologists, interventional fellows-in-training, nurses, technicians and allied health care professionals who work in structural heart disease.

Educational Goal

The purpose of this activity is to provide cardiovascular specialists with the education to improve patient outcomes and reduce morbidity and mortality rates through the management of various conditions.

Learning Objectives

- Discuss new technologies in the management of structural heart disease to determine their benefit for patients
- Explain indications, techniques, outcomes, and complications for transcatheter valve intervention in patients with native valve disease and bioprosthetic valve dysfunction
- Evaluate the rationale, challenges, and necessity of the heart team approach to valvular heart disease, and the functionality of the team within a center of excellence
- Assess the barriers to care in patients with valvular heart disease with specific attention to current gaps in the timely delivery of percutaneous and surgical interventions

Accreditation

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of CMEsolutions and Gaffney Events. The CMEsolutions is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The CMEsolutions designates this live activity for a maximum of 7 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits.[™] Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
